

BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE

Tactics Meet Strategy

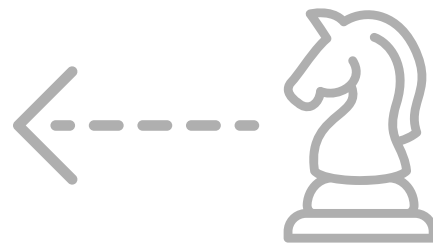

Being able to aggregate, analyze, and report the outcomes of your tactical business operations in the past and the present will help you make better strategic decisions for the future of your business. That's why our Business Intelligence (BI) module interfaces with your internal systems and your third-party data sources to aggregate all of the meaningful data at your disposal.

That's why it contains preconfigured cubes and measures, features configurable dashboards and visualization tools, and enables ad hoc queries and role-based authorization. So, it enables you to get the strategic decision-making information you need to make fully informed decisions, when you need to make them.

It's All Here

Our BI module gives you the flexibility to access the information you want when you want it, including:

- ◆ Enhanced agent/producer metrics
- ◆ Actuarial insights for risk selection
- ◆ Real-time analysis and actionable insights
- ◆ Canned reports, ad hoc queries, and what-if analyses
- ◆ Increased insight into company performance
- ◆ Complete portfolio analysis
- ◆ Role Based Security.

Don't Lose Opportunity

The data you may not be aggregating, analyzing, and monitoring may also constitute lost opportunity. With our BI module, that's not a risk worth taking

Please contact us today to let us know how we can help you maximize your data and minimize your lost opportunities.
